LOYAL MEN'S CLASS MONTHLY MEETING WAS HELD LAST EVENING

The men's Bible class of the Central Christian Bible school held its monthly business meeting last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Finley, 434 West Doran street. There was a good attendance of these loyal men and a great deal of important business was transacted. Plans were outlined for a big membership drive. Inspiring addresses were made by Lee Kaster, class president; C. W. Bacon, the beloved teacher, and others.

After the business session had adjourned, the men were invited to the dining room, where Mrs. Finley and her lady assistants had prepared a most appetizing lunch of sandwiches, coffee and real, juicy huckleberry pie in very generous slices, topped with whipped cream. The huckleberries of which the pies were made were picked last year in Oregon by Mr. Finley and canned by his wife.

ADVISED TO STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN

Trying to beat a train to a railroad crossing has brought so much grief to Southern California motorists in the last three and one-half years that the automobile club issues a warning which may well be taken to heart. Up until the first of this year 1909 automobiles were damaged or destroyed at the grade crossings of one railroad alone. In these autos 51 people were killed and 638 injured. Officials of the club point out that 490, or more than 25 per cent of the grade crossing accidents recorded were caused by motorists running into the train. In 122 instances autos plunged through the crossing-gates lowered to protect vehicles while the train was passing. One crossing flagman was killed and eight were injured by automobiles while endeavoring to warn riders of approaching trains.

Following is a summary of the entire 1909 accidents, indicating the cause and manner of their occurrence as given by Southern Pacific officials:

Cause	Number Killed	Number Injured
Ran in front of train	970	136
Ran into train	490	9
Stalled on track	229	4
Ran into crossing-gates	122	27
Ran into signals, signs, etc.	43	1
Ran into crossing flagman	12	1
Skidded into train	43	8

It is important that motorists remember that the noise of their engine, no matter how slight, is often sufficient to drown the noise of an approaching train and they should therefore in all instances look in both directions before attempting to cross a railroad track.

GLEN PORTER BLOCK PROGRESSING FAST

Rapid progress is being made on the brick store building that is being erected by Glen Porter at the southeast corner of Broadway and Orange street. Its depth is 106 feet and in the northwest corner will be a small store room 14x50, which will be leased. The balance of the space will be used by Mr. Porter for his own business, his frontage being 35 feet, running the full depth of the structure, with the space in the rear of the other room also available for stock. It will have but one story, but is being constructed with a view to additional stories if needed. Mr. Porter expects to occupy it about September 11, when his present lease expires. Five garages will be built across the rear of the building, one of which Mr. Porter will use himself. The others he will rent out.

WHY BE THANKFUL?

Mother always kept little Tommy up to the scratch in the matter of grace before meals, and she made no difference when she took him to tea with her one afternoon at a restaurant.

She said to Tommy after the waitress had served the tea:

"Now, say grace, please, Tommy."

"But, mamma," objected her seven-year-old little son, "we're paying for this, aren't we?"

CITY TRUSTEES HOLD BUSY WEEKLY SESSION LAST NIGHT

Decide Not To Bring Suit Against Pacific Electric for Speed Violation

CITY IS SUED FOR $3500

Resolution Adopted Indorsing
American Legion Benefit for Disabled Veterans

The audience last night at the meeting of the city trustees consisted of small groups of persons who had come on separate errands and who gradually melted away as the evening advanced.

To Use Council Chamber Sunday

Following the reading of the minutes Rev. W. E. Edmonds addressed the board relative to the use of the council chamber Sunday mornings from 9:30 to 10:30 for a men's Bible class. He explained that the growth of the Sunday school of his church has made more room imperatively necessary but that inasmuch as the church is on the eve of building a new edifice on its site at Harvard and Louise, it does not wish to expand at the present location and therefore is seeking temporary quarters for its men's Bible class. On motion of Trustee Robinson, seconded by Trustee Bartlett, the board granted the request.

Mrs. Tarling Secures Permit

On a second report from Health Officer Eckles relative to the application of Mrs. Tarling for a permit to maintain a home for elderly people and semi-invalids, stating that she had made changes recommended by him, and also on the recommendation of Dr. Raymond Chase, Mr. McGillis, Rev. E. E. Ford and others, the board granted the permit on the understanding that no persons suffering from tuberculosis or mental disease would be received.

Lights on San Fernando

Emil Fram addressed the board relative to the need for street lights on San Fernando road at the intersection of Windsor road and other crossings for the public safety and the matter was referred to the city manager with instructions to report at an early date.

An application from Mrs. Villa Shaw for a permit to maintain a home for elderly people at 400 Palm drive, was referred to the city health officer for investigation and report.

Temporary Street Work

The application of Peter Perry for permit to do temporary street work on Wilcox and Salem in the Edwards & Wilsey tract was referred to City Manager Watson who reported favorably and the permit was granted.

Public Garage Not Wanted

A petition signed by George C. James and about 14 others that the board refuse a permit for a public garage at West Broadway and Pacific avenue as being detrimental to property values and a menace to children, was ordered filed until such time as an application for such a permit was before the board.

The application of W. L. Kinsey for permit to operate a public jitney bus and approved by the city marshal, was granted.

Official Reports

City Clerk Sherer submitted a list of candidates for city offices who have duly qualified, and same was ordered filed.

The report of the head of the building department showed total receipts from fees paid during May, $1324.

The report of the city treasurer was referred to the finance committee.

Bid for Poles

The report of city manager that the Niedermeyer-Martin Lumber company of Portland, Ore., had submitted the lowest bid for supplying poles to the city was approved and on his recommendation, the bid was accepted.

On recommendation of city manager the board granted permits to Anthony W. Crumb, William H. Hooper and W. R. Graham for the installation of additional oil tanks and pumps.

A report relative to the Knott Fire Truck No. 2 and repair bill of $330.80 and the statement of Chief Lankford that it is still not in perfect condition, was read by the clerk and the board voted to hold the truck in reserve to be used only in case of emergency until the new fire truck is received from the American-La France company.

The report of Health Officer Eckles relative to the Thornycroft hospital conditions, Canyon Crest sanitarium and Mrs. Anderson's Rest home was received and ordered placed on file.

The Anderson Sidewalk

Mr. Anderson again appeared before the board relative to the three-foot trespass of the sidewalk laid by the city on his property line. City Manager Watson stated he wished before making any recommendations to the board to obtain from Mr. Lynch data relative to the walk which was laid during his term of office as city engineer. As the walk has been in for five years, giving the city title in all probability, the matter was laid over for further investigation and report.

Water Improvement Work

Engineer Lynch reported that the lining of the big reservoir on Glendale avenue is in progress, that the 30-inch mains are within 300 feet of the reservoir, and that work at the Vine avenue reservoir and at the San Fernando pumping plant is progressing satisfactorily.

City Attorney's Reports

City Attorney Shaw reported concerning the hearing of the case against the Pacific Electric motorman for violation of the city's speed ordinance No. 400 before Judge Lowe and of the fine imposed by the judge. Inasmuch as the fine that could be collected from the Pacific Electric corporation under an action brought against it for violation of the ordinance, would probably not cover expense of action, the board rescinded its instructions to Attorney Shaw to bring suit against the railroad.

Suit for Flood Damage

The city attorney also reported a suit filed against the city by Giovanni Gai for damages in the sum of $3550, on account of flood water which the city had diverted. Mr. Shaw stated he had been informed that the flood water complained of had been diverted by the county, not the city of Glendale, and he was instructed to enter a defense on behalf of the city and all defendants named in the suit.

Relative to securing a crossing over the Pacific Electric railway tracks at Gardena avenue, Mr. Shaw reported the Pacific Electric company is willing to grant the city an easement with the understanding that the city will stand the cost of installing any safety devices that may be needed. The report was referred to city manager with instructions to furnish the board with an estimate of the cost of opening Gardena.

An ordinance was offered calling an election for the two bond issues of $22,000 and $26,000 respectively.

An ordinance changing the grade of Brand boulevard at the Southern Pacific crossing was also adopted.

City manager was instructed to secure a copy of assembly bill No. 1122, signed by the governor, requiring municipalities to pave in front of school property.

Indorsement of Legion Benefit

On motion of Trustee Henry the board adopted a resolution indorsing and approving the benefit entertainment to be given by the Glendale Post, American Legion, for disabled veterans in this city.

Trustee Stephenson called the attention of the board to the need of another fireman at Station No. 2 on Los Feliz and Brand and suggested that the additional fireman for which the new salary ordinance provided be placed at that station, because it is too much to require one fireman to do alone the work of getting the truck ready to respond to call and delay in reaching a fire might be fatal.

On motion of Trustee Bartlett, seconded by Robinson the board voted to instruct Chief Lankford to station the new man at that point.

Paper Litter on Brand

President Stephenson also complained of the litter of papers which makes unsightly the Pacific Electric stations at Los Feliz road, Maple street and other crossings of this main artery of traffic and the city marshal was instructed to investigate and correct the trouble.

Automatic Flagman at Los Feliz

On motion of Trustee Robinson the police department was instructed to make a check of traffic on Los Feliz road and report same to the Pacific Electric company with a request that an automatic flagman be stationed at the Los Feliz crossing of the Pacific Electric tracks.

A statement prepared by City Manager Watson explaining to voters the property the city proposes to purchase and the uses to which it will be put if the bond issue for $26,000 is voted at the coming election, was presented to the board which instructed Mr. Watson to have same printed in leaflet form and distributed to voters for their information prior to the election.

THEATERS

Palace Grand

Admirers of winsome Mary Pickford who have not seen her in her latest and best comedy-drama, "Through the Back Door," have one more opportunity of doing so, for the picture closes its three-day run at the Palace Grand today.

As an orphan, then a war refugee, also an immigrant and finally a servant—thus does Miss Pickford step from plane to plane in the social scheme until her true identity is at last established.

Because her stepfather considered her a burden, because her nurse lied about her, and because her own mother didn't recognize her, she suffered many heartaches and disappointments. Despair and discouragement were her constant companions but in spite of these she triumphed, and when the climax came she made five persons happy for life.

Glendale Theater

The screen version of David Belasco's famous stage production, "The Heart of Maryland," which is now running at the Glendale theater, is a picture worth while.

That the picture might have historic value, the director, Tom Terriss, has secured many authentic locations which figured prominently in the civil war.

Such noted sites as the Briers, General Grant's headquarters; the sites he used include the historic mansion that was the scene of Jefferson Davis wedding and of grand balls given in honor of Henry Clay; a historic chapel of the south; "Knut's Folly," a magnificent building begun during the civil war and never finished, and beautiful scenes overlooking the Mississippi valley.

Ballads of the civil war, sung by Miss Dorothy Taylor, add atmosphere to this wonderful picture.

A Harold Lloyd comedy, "Bumping Into Broadway," is an additional treat on this fine program.

GIRLS' LEAGUE HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

At the third period Thursday morning at Glendale high, members of the Girls' League had a meeting at which officers for the coming year were elected.

Doris Packer was unanimously re-elected to the presidency; Mildred Stanford was elected vice president; Evelyn Gregg, secretary; Margaret Morgan, treasurer.

We can't remember that the sentimental ever petitioned the government to do anything for the criminal's victim.

LETHAL GAS DEATH CHAMBER TAKES LIFE OF CONDEMNED

(By H. W. Faraday)

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

RENO, Nev., June 10.—Thudding crash of bullets or sickening drop from scaffold will no longer bring legal death in Nevada. Instead, drugged into unconsciousness, criminals will be placed in an air-tight chamber, where death will come in stealthy approach of tasteless, odorless gas.

Prior to January of this year a man condemned to death had choice of one of two ways to die. He could select the bullet or the hangman's noose. Choice was removed by the last Legislature, meeting in Carson City early this year, when it passed a bill decreeing death penalties should be enacted through the use of a deadly gas.

A new tier of cells is rapidly nearing completion at the state penitentiary in Carson City. In that tier of cells are three which to outward appearances correspond exactly with the other cells in the prison house. Written over the entrance of each cell, unseen except by eyes that must soon face death, is a legend of anguish, for the three cells are death cells.

Death cells in literal truth, for the cell in which the condemned prisoner passes the last days on earth is the cell where death will steal in on him or her sometime during the fateful week of death.

Invincible Gas Pipes

Close by the death cells lies the executioner's room. There are no switches to swing into contact here, nor buttons to push which will release a drop beneath the prisoner's feet. Instead, great tanks of death-dealing gas stand waiting the day of carrying out sentence pronounced as penalty for crime. Pipes lead from this room to each of the death cells. Their outlets cannot be seen by the eyes of the condemned, yet through these openings leading into the cells death will rush when the signal has been given.

Provisions in passing sentence will be the same as provisions under the old infliction of death penalty except, for phrasing "shot until dead," or "hanged by the neck until dead," for which will be substituted, "placed in a room filled with lethal gas, there to remain until dead."

In all three cells arrangements have been made so ventilation may be cut off, and in each door is a heavy glass window. Witnesses will use the window through which to view the unfortunate passing from life to death.

Opiate in Last Supper

In passing sentence death is designed to take place within a week. Under Nevada's new law, when the final week arrives any meal may be the condemned man's last meal on earth, for in the food on the fatal day will be a strong opiate. As he finishes eating drowsiness will close his eyes in sleep, the window to his cell will be closed air-tight, the close-fitting door will swing on him for the last time, witnesses will take their places and as the deadly gas is forced into the death cell the condemned man will go to his Maker without ever having known that the final payment is being made.

During the debate on the bill several legislators pointed out the fact that mental torture would not be ended with use of lethal gas instead of rifle or noose. All the horrors of waiting must be borne under the lethal gas law which were experienced by condemned men who had made their choice of being shot or hanged. The question was raised relative to how an opiate would be administered in cases where the condemned start a hunger strike with refusal to eat any food during the week decreed as time for execution. Another question asked was whether "the average man would not rather die with his faculties alert, meeting death as a man rather than as a dumb brute?"

The Hanging of Casey

No answers were given these questions. When they will be answered in actual experience of a man or woman waiting death cannot be told, for none is waiting death at the present time.

Nevada has not exacted a death penalty since 1913. With the privilege of selecting the form of death, either shooting or hanging, a man known only as Casey was hanged in that year. No one has ever learned Casey's real identity. He was known only as Casey when arrested for murder; he went through his trial alone and friendless as Casey; he was hanged by the neck until dead as Casey.

There was but one outstanding feature of this case. Casey had but one leg, the missing member being replaced with a wooden leg. He was asked a few days before being hanged whether he would die with or without his wooden leg. He said: "Without it." On the morning of the final day he decided he wanted his wooden leg to go with him. This necessitated a last minute refiguring of weights and length of drop. But his desire was granted, and Casey went to his death without parting company with his wooden leg.

SECRETARY DAVIS ROSE FROM RANKS

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Secretary of Labor Davis today confessed that he isn't a millionaire. The man who rose from a puddler in the steel mills of Pittsburgh to the dignity of a cabinet officer, laughingly said that the report that he was in the magical class of the wealthy was "greatly exaggerated."

He then explained how the report that he was a millionaire got abroad.

I. O. O. F. Memorial Day

Glendale Lodge, No. 338, I. O. O. F., are making preparations to attend the elaborate ceremonies in memory of those of the order who have passed on, which will be held next Sunday at the Independent Order of Odd Fellows' cemetery, 3640 Stephenson avenue, Los Angeles.

The graves will be decorated at 10 o'clock in the morning; the memorial service will take place at 2:30.

The ceremony includes special services by the Rebekahs for the late sovereign grand secretary, John B. Goodwin, and addresses by Chairman Bert Shangle and Past President Ada Madison. The eulogy will be pronounced by Grand Warden E. R. Longley.

Beautiful and appropriate musical numbers, including vocal solos, trios, violin solos and orchestral selections will form a part of the program. The audience will open the service with the singing of "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and close it with "Abide With Me."

PROF. BOUGHN LEAVES LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

Prof. Edgar T. Boughn of the department of mathematics of the high school has signified his intentions of severing his connection with the school at the end of the year. Mr. Boughn has constantly worked for the school and the pupils regret his departure, but their best wishes go with him.

The work of Mr. Boughn has been leadership, as he has given many years to principalship of the high schools of Riverside county from which he came last year to Glendale. He was principal of the Hemet Union high school nine years, and his most recent work was the Gardena high school, where with Mr. Lillard he assisted to create the agricultural part of the school. Mr. Boughn likes the Glendale high very much and hopes at some future date to return here to live out the years of his career.

It appears that long before he ever dreamed of sitting around the cabinet table of the President of the United States, he had occasion as director-general of the Loyal Order of Moose to apply to a Pittsburgh banker for the loan of $1,000,000 to finance certain activities of that fraternal organization. The banker, taking the application under consideration, called in some of his associates for advice.

"Who is this man Davis?" he asked. "Why, he is the general organizer of the Moose and every one of its 600,000 members pays him $2 a year," one of the bankers replied.

"He got the loan all right, and that is how the story originated that he was a millionaire."

"It is true that every member of the order pays $2 a year," said Secretary Davis, "but that $2 goes to make a home for children and the maintenance of a school to educate them."

MANY LOCAL GIRLS IN DANCE RECITAL AT HOLLYWOOD JUNE 15

Miss Edith Lindsay will present her pupils in a Dance Recital at the Hollywood Woman's clubhouse, 7078 Hollywood boulevard, Wednesday, June 15. A number of Glendale children will take part.

Margaret Brown will dance a "Balloon Fantasy" and a "Gypsy Dance"; Marion Stadler, a "Butterfly" and "Chinese"; Leonor Mary Bond, "Bluebird"; Sarah Chandler, "Fleur Waltz" and a "Spanish Dance"; Orrell Hester, "Joy" and with Mary Prowell and Sarah Chandler, "An Arabian Serenade"; Mitzie and Barbara Chandler, "Prunella and Pierrot"; Barbara Chandler, "Dragon Fly."

Dorothy Parker, Gwendolyn Shattuck, Vera Mercer, Evelyn Nolan, Norma Jean Groton, Victoria Stuart, Marjorie Phillips, Josephine Franklin, Alice Ayars, Iris Lauth, Elaine Johnson, Jean Williams, Peggy Campbell, Barbara Gilman and Ruth Campbell will participate in ensemble numbers. The Hollywood and Los Angeles pupils will furnish the rest of the program.

BASKETS DISPLAYED ARE FROM MANY COUNTRIES

In one of Neale & Gregg's windows has been a fine exhibit of baskets of many different sorts and when one considered in looking at them from how many far places they had come, the display had all the elements of romance with which a collection of curios from some strange land is invested. We had all seen such baskets before, but not until the war cut off our supplies did we realize from how great a distance they had come to us. In this window, for instance, were willow hampers and baskets which had come across the water in the first shipload of baskets that Belgium had exported since the war. Then there were straw woven baskets from Vermont, and splint baskets from New York state, which had come to this coast by way of the Panama canal. There were also a few of Panama fibre from Mexico. These last are hand made, many of Indian manufacture and are uncertain of quality. Sometimes they are very good and sometimes poor, which makes dealers careful about stocking up very heavily with that sort.

DEPUTY ACCUSED OF COWARDICE

(By International News Service)

PARIS, June 8.—"The war did not kill war," said Minister of War Barthou recently. He might have added that war also did not kill war scandals, for today another has broken out which is likely to have far-reaching consequences. War and politics and even food supplies find their way into the latest scandal which is moving the whole of France. It concerns Deputy Ernest Vilgrain under secretary of state for food supplies in the Clemenceau cabinet.

The first accusation brought against M. Vilgrain by Deputy Barthe was that he organized or tried to organize a corner in wheat and also that he used politics to avoid military service in the war. The whole affair has been aggravated by accusations made against M. Vilgrain that he voluntarily wounded himself or had himself wounded while far from the firing lines in order that he might be discharged. Some have gone so far as to say that Vilgrain deserted from the army, and that he prevented impeachment by pulling political strings.

Commends Rev. Cole's Views

Editor Glendale Press:

Dear Sir—It will be appreciated if you will give space for the following in the Daily Press.

I desire in this public manner to commend the stand taken by the Rev. C. A. Cole in his sermon at the Central Christian church last Sunday evening, and published in your columns Monday evening, June 6. It's worth a second reading.

Some of us have lived in Glendale ten or more years and have seen the city grow from small beginnings and ultimately take its place among the best and foremost residential cities in the country. Its growth and development are pointed to with pride on the part of every true citizen, and everywhere it is manifest that our past and present prosperity is but the earnest of still greater and more permanent expansion, and for proof of this we call attention to our beautiful homes, our churches and our schools, our hospitals and our business houses, together with a host of splendid organizations which make for the city's benefit. All of this and more has made us feel that we are good friends and neighbors, each jealous for the other's good name and reputation, realizing that our city is only as strong as its weakest citizen.

Now, behold, just as we are boasting of the smooth running of the city's machinery, some misguided citizen pitches a monkey wrench into the gears, and would throw everything into reverse.

The program of the past years has resulted in "a clean city kept clean," and has brought unheard of prosperity (can anyone deny this fact), still some are clamoring for a change and if it cannot be brought about in any other way they resort to a program

ENTERTAINMENT BY NAVAL RESERVES

The Naval Reserves are to give an entertainment this evening at the Union League club in Los Angeles. There will be music by the bands of the U. S. S. Mississippi and the Submarine Base, boxing matches, speeches by Capt. Chauncey Shackford and others. All officers and men of the present. An effort is being made to build up a Glendale division of the reserves.

REVIVAL MEETINGS BY EVANGELIST MURRAY

Evangelist P. G. Murray of the Church of the Nazarene is holding revival services in a tent opposite the Christian Endeavor tabernacle, Harvard and Orange. He began last Sunday and will continue for two or three weeks. The Scheideman-Hollowell quartet sings every evening. Workers from Los Angeles and other cities are present at each meeting. Everyone is invited to attend the services.

CLARENCE TAYLOR GOES EAST TO STUDY

Clarence Taylor, brother-in-law of Glen Porter, who has been attending the California School of Technology, is leaving this week for Camp Humphrey, near Washington, where he will take six weeks' practical training in technical engineering. He will then visit his father in Williamsport, Pa., and other relatives in Illinois, returning to Southern California about Sept. 20, to resume his school work.

of falsehoods and endeavor to hide under a refuge of lies. The whole thing is a "slam" at the things which heretofore have made for true morals and real civic righteousness.

Wolf, wolf, when there is no wolf, and his name is "blue law." Some one has well said that an optimist is one who looks into the future and sees a bright light when there "ain't" none, and a pessimist is the fellow who is trying to blow out the light. In other words there are those who are saying they see a "blue law" as a light on the city's horizon, and they are trying to extinguish it, when there is no such light. These are blind leaders of the blind, and presently both will "fall into the ditch."

Blow brothers blow, and after you are out of breath remember that some one has put one over on you because you were an easy mark.

Seriously, Mr. Editor, there are no "blue laws" contemplated by any minister of the gospel or the Ministerial association of Glendale, and the ten members of this association are ready and willing to meet any ten citizens of Glendale whom any organization may select, and ask these 20 men to sit as jury, and if they find any "blue laws" or any plan looking toward such a move, we will sign our names to a statement giving in detail just what is proposed. Will any organization accept the challenge?

Brother Cole, you are right. No city can prosper and build up on a foundation of lies. The people are wise. You can't fool all the people all the time. Let us adhere to the injunction of the "Good Book": "Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbor."

(Signed)

Rev. W. E. EDMONDS.

ROSE CARNIVAL OPENS AT PORTLAND

(By International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., June 10.—Portland's annual rose carnival, with its beautiful array of flowers, parades and motor boat and motor cycle races, opened yesterday with the crowning of Miss Dorothy Metschan as queen of roses. Thousands of visitors, filled the city to overflowing and all railroads and highways radiating from the Rose City were taxed to their utmost to care for the incoming crowds.

The voice amplifying device used by President Harding when he delivered his inauguration speech, has been brought here and it will be possible to hear various speakers in practically all parts of the city. The horns of the speech amplifier have been placed in the tower of one of the city's churches and sermons delivered by prominent ministers of the city on Sunday can be heard by several thousand people inside the church and a hundred thousand outside.

Among the principal features of the festival will be the rose-decorated automobile parades, and the night electrical parades. Garlands of roses and other flowers will cover the motor cars in formations typifying historic events, edifices of nationally known prominence and the modes of living in frontier days. Street cars with the cabs removed will form the basis of the electrical parades. Flowers and vari-colored lights mold the floats into things of beauty.

The carnival lasts for one week, ending in a grand Mardi Gras when the streets will be given over to mischievous young and old people with "ticklers" and noisy folk with blaring horns.

You may not know the name of the anonymous letter writer, but if you have any knowledge of rodents you know his species.

PLEASURE TRIP TO EASTERN POINTS

Motorists planning a trip to eastern points at this time are advised by the Touring Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California that the great Santa Fe trail is temporarily closed between Albuquerque and La Junta.

Flood conditions which have recently swept Pueblo are responsible for the closing of this route, caused by the overflow of the Arkansas and Rio Grande rivers. All bridges are out.

However, this does not mean that motor travel between Southern California and eastern points is completely at a standstill. The Automobile Club has arranged a detour by way of Estancia, Clovis and Dodge City for the use of automobile owners who find it necessary to undertake this trip.

The club crew which is engaged in a nation-wide charting trip has been marooned near Pecos in Texas on account of flood conditions along the Pecos River. Word is received daily from members of this crew in regard to road conditions throughout the southern states and this information may be obtained by motorists who are planning an eastern trip at this time. Local highway conditions and general road conditions throughout the southern part of the state are excellent, despite the rains of last month, according to the latest bulletin issued by the Automobile Club.

Important information is contained in the announcement that both roads to Lake Tahoe and vicinity are now open. These are Truckee-Donner lake road and the Placerville-Strawberry road and are in wonderful shape. It is also stated that the Big Oak Flat road into Yosemite Valley is excellent.

There will be more summer touring this year hereabouts than ever before.

RADIUM WEDDING OF GERMAN COUPLE

(By International News Service)
BERLIN, June 9.—All Germany is sending congratulations to Herr and Frau Friedrich Manns, of Berlin, who are celebrating their 70th wedding anniversary. The Berliner Tageblatt announces that the seventieth anniversary is the "Radium Wedding Day." Nothing is said about gifts of radium.

Herr Manns was born October 14, 1825, and his wife July 10, 1831. They are especially regarded as heroic Germans, because both of them went to West Prussia to vote during the plebiscite. The city of Berlin will officially present them with a bouquet.

Printed calico and plain linen combined in a slip-on frock with a serrated trimming of the plain goods seems a favorite porch or garden model.

OLD JOKE, NEW TWIST

Pat, who was always very punctual, agreed to meet Mike at the post-office at 10 o'clock. Arriving a few minutes ahead of time Pat decided to walk down the street in the direction from which he knew Mike would come.

After walking several blocks Pat observed Mike across the street hurrying towards the meeting-place. "Hey, there, Mike!" called Pat, "here I am—come on over."

"Begorra, Pat," answered the tardy Irishman, "don't be after detainin' me. Ol' me only foive minutes to meet yez at the post office!"

HISTORY WILL REPEAT ITSELF

The Motor Truck business will rival the pleasure car business. It is now just at its beginning. Past experience has proven that the Motor Truck business must be conducted as a separate and distinct institution from the automobile business.

Legions of new men will now make fortunes in the Motor Truck business, who get in on the ground floor, as average, successful Motor Truck salesmen make from $2500 to $5000 a year.

The Peerless Commercial Company with its principal offices in Los Angeles, are organizing an exclusive Motor Truck sales force for one of the best motor trucks known, and appointing a local representative in every community. No experience or capital, and only spare time, supplying information, and advising and assisting their experienced salesmen, offers an unusual opportunity for a local man to get started and eventually qualify to attain a position paying $75 to $100 per week, or more.

Anyone interested and desiring to get into the Motor Truck business in any capacity, should address for free and full information—

"THE GOOD OLD DAYS"

From Omaha, Neb., comes the remarkable story of a babe born without ears but now, thanks to the success of a surgical operation, growing two apparently good auditory organs. And yet some people speak of the "good old times!" Modern science and invention have so increased the comforts of life that to the wide-awake person, aware of his surrounding enjoyments and mindful of the hardships of the past, it seems ridiculous that anyone should wish for the woes of yesterday.

It is possible that we frequently become too absorbed in the problems confronting society today to fully appreciate the achievements of the past 50 years. It is not necessary to go back to revolutionary times to provide material for contrast. Consider what life must have been for our grandfathers and grandmothers in their youth without electric lights, the telephone, gas and furnaces, to say nothing of our automotive conveyances, such as street cars, automobiles and airplanes.

Such reiteration sounds commonplace today, so accustomed have we become to these modern conveniences. But, lest we become unappreciative of science and invention, it is well to recall now and then the wonders of the present century. The man who bewails the present age and longs for the past must surely be blind to the marvels about him.

PLENTY OF WATER

The development of the city water system is progressing most satisfactorily. The pipe line along Grand View is about completed and the one on Glendale avenue is also nearing completion. These two will connect the main trunk lines and the distributing system. The concrete in the Grand View reservoir is now being laid and preparations are under way to lay concrete in the Verdugo road reservoir. It is expected that both these reservoirs will be finished within 60 days. This will complete the general water development as planned in the $260,000 bond issue, with the exception of the wells and development in Verdugo canyon.

The closed trust depositors who even yet have not filed their claims, should also whet their wits.

Germany says she wants to pay reparations, but wants to do it in her own way.

Many a man wants his friends to either let him alone or give him a loan.

GRAVE AND GAY

TOO INQUISITIVE SON

A most promising youth recently sought information from his father touching family affairs:

"Dad," said he, "do you like mother?"

"Why, what a question! Of course, I do!"

"And she likes you?"

"I am certain she does."

"Did she ever say so?"

"Thousands of times, my son."

"Did she marry you because she loved you?"

Whereupon dad became angry, and said:

"See here, young man, you're getting entirely too personal. But I don't mind telling you that she did."

The boy scrutinized his parent closely, and after a pause added:

"Tell me this, dad: Was ma a near-sighted then as she is now?"

"About the best game of poker I ever saw was back in the west in the fifties," related the old timer. "The cards were dealt and the pot opened for $5. Carson and Devlin and I stayed, each man taking one card. Then the betting started. The amount was tilted back and forth a few times until there was $10,000 in the center of the table. Devlin was betting high wild and wound the pot up by boosting it $2500, with both Carson and me calling."

"And did Devlin win?" asked one of the interested listeners.

"No," chuckled the old man, "Devlin wasn't dealing."

Little Tommy Brown was always interested in his new baby sister. One day he stood peering down upon it, while nurse was singing it to sleep.

"Nurse," he whispered at last, "she's nearly unconscious isn't she?" "Yes," nodded the nurse, and continued singing the lullaby. But Tommy whispered in alarm, "Then don't sing any more or you'll kill her."

There is no way to make ugly ankles beautiful. There is a divinity that shapes our ends.

The reason a great many successful men are careless of their personal appearance.

At any rate the demand for stills is developing the latent mechanical genius of the race.

LONESOME FOR HIS WARES

Mooney, the traveling salesman, was a bit depressed, for trade was bad. It was the end of another blank day and the discouraged drummer called on another merchant to display his samples.

"But I want nothing today," said the merchant.

"At least you will examine my line of goods?" suggested Mooney.

The merchant thought not.

"In that case," suggested Mooney meekly, "will you permit me the use of your counter to look at them myself? I have not had the opportunity to do so for some time."

Just before the service the minister was called into the vestibule by a young couple who asked that he marry them. He answered he had not time then but that if they would wait until after the sermon he would be glad to accommodate them. Accordingly, just before the benediction, he announced:

"Will those who wish to be married today please come forward?"

Thirteen women and one man stepped up.

Along the country road walked a man and a woman. The latter was bullying the meek little fellow who trudged in front of her with downcast head. Suddenly the woman saw a bull racing down the road behind them. She took refuge in the hedge, but her companion kept on, unconscious of or caught by his woes. The bull caught him up and sent him spinning into a muddy ditch. Then it continued on its wild career. As the woe-begone figure crawled out of the mire he saw his better half coming toward him. Plucking up a little courage, he whimpered: "M-M-Maria, if you hit me again like that, you'll really get my temper up, so I warn you."

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

By JOSEPHINE FRANCE

Macaroni and Spaghetti

The macaroni pastes have become general favorites on many home tables. As the pastes are usually boiled before being made into other dishes, it is wise to remember that they should always be broken into suitable lengths and then dropped into rapidly boiling, salted water, to which a tablespoon of butter has been added. When, after steady boiling for ten or fifteen minutes, the paste is tender, turn it into a strainer and run a little cold water through it, stirring rapidly. It is then ready for use with a plain sauce or to make into other dishes.

Baked Macaroni

Break into suitable lengths one small of half of a large package of macaroni, and boil as directed. Butter a pudding dish and after the macaroni is blanched and drained, place alternate layers of the paste and grated cheese in the dish until all is used, having cheese on top. Add a cupful of rich but thin cream sauce and half a cupful of cream. Bake for 15 or 20 minutes.

Macaroni Balls

Boil half a package of macaroni as directed, chop fine, add half a cup of grated cheese, salt, pepper, a tablespoon each of crumbs and chopped nuts and the yolk of an egg. Mould into balls and set to cool. When ready to use dip the balls in egg, roll in fine crumbs and fry in hot fat. Drain the balls on brown or blotting paper and serve them with a cream sauce. Garnish with parsley.

Greek Spaghetti

Fry a sliced onion in butter and when soft add a pound of chopped beef. Cover and steam through. Put a layer of spaghetti into a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with grated parmesan cheese, then add a layer of the meat mixture, which should be highly seasoned. Continue until the dish is full. Turn over all a cup of this cream sauce. Bake until brown.

Italian Spaghetti

Take a large can of tomatoes and add to them a sliced onion, a bay leaf, a little chopped celery, a bud of garlic, three slices of diced bacon and a bunch of sweet herbs. Cook for half an hour, then rub through a sieve. Have ready a boiled and blanched package of spaghetti, turn the sauce over it, and let all heat through. Add a pinch of saffron and cheese.

Spanish Spaghetti

Fry in hot butter two finely minced peppers and a chopped Spanish onion. When done but not brown, add a pint of rich tomato sauce and a package of boiled and blanched spaghetti. Cover the frying pan and cook for ten minutes. Add a little pepper, salt to taste, and two tablespoons of sugar. Turn on to a hot platter and cover the top with freshly poached eggs. This makes a very hearty and well-liked luncheon dish.

Vermicelli Souffle

Add two beaten egg yolks to a cup and a half of cream sauce, then beat in half a package of boiled and blanched vermicelli and let it cool. When cool fold in the beaten whites of the eggs with whites of two more eggs, turn into a buttered baking dish, cover with buttered crumbs and a little grated cheese and bake in a hot oven until puffed and lightly browned. Serve at once.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

Lasky's Joy Bomb

Lasky every now and then has a habit of surprising his screen crew in Hollywood with a joy bomb. This time it is the announcement that the Long Island city studios of the Famous Players-Lasky company are to be closed until next winter and that the stars and companies now working there are to be transferred to the big plant here. This means the addition of four units to the half dozen now in operation and will make the studio the busiest motion picture plant in the world, from a production point of view. It also means that many good photographers and technical men now walking the streets of Hollywood will be given employment. From every point of view Lasky's announcement is the best piece of news that has reached the west coast picture colony since the beginning of the slump in production. In his official announcement Mr. Lasky says:

"This transfer is made in the interests of economy. We shall take every advantage of the California sunshine now that the rainy season in Los Angeles is ended. We are not cutting down production but merely taking steps to produce more economically. The Long Island city studio will be opened again when the rainy season makes it impossible to concentrate in Los Angeles. We do not believe in operating an enclosed studio with its tremendous expense for electricity at a time when we can work more economically in Hollywood. The companies that are now being sent to the coast will return to New York in the fall."

Darrell Foss, who has played opposite Nazimova and Viola Dana in Metro productions is Edith Roberts' leading man in her current Universal picture, "The Gossamer Web."

Dorothy Dalton and other members of the cast in the Cecil B. DeMille production, suggested by Leonard Merrick's "The Laurels and the Lady," spent a week at Naples, Calif., filming canal scenes.

Richard Dix and Leatrice Joy have the leading roles in Reginald Barker's current production, "The Poverty of Riches," the Leroy Scott original screen story formerly called "The Mother."

DeWitt C. Jennings, who is noted for his stage and screen impersonations of police roles, is a native of Salt Lake City and began his stage career there.

Allan Forrest has been added to the cast of "The Man from Lost River," the Katherine Burt Newlin story now under production by Goldwyn.

Nazimova has returned to Los Angeles and is organizing a picture producing company of her own.

Clara Horton, "the angel-faced child of the screen," is playing opposite Hoot Gibson in his first five reeler, "The Mascotte of the Three Stars."

Clara Kimball Young's first screen appearance was in the Vitagraph picture, "His Official Wife."

Sylvia Ashton, Famous Players-Lasky actress, was born in mid-ocean of American parents.

May McAvoy May Be Peter Pan

Hollywood has about decided that May McAvoy, Realart star, will be chosen for the role of Peter Pan, the most sought-for plum in all cinema-land. No subject of a like nature, ever has created such interest in the industry as this. Colleen Moore, Betty Compson, Ann Forrest, Lois Wilson and a score of other maidens not so prominent, have been waiting for the Barrie call, but the backers of the fair May never lost hope that ultimately she would be chosen. She made a tremendous hit in "Sentimental Tommy," a Barrie story in which Gareth Hughes, now a Metro star, was featured in the Paramount production in the Long Island studio of the Famous Players-Lasky. Her work in that picture resulted in her being sent to Hollywood to go into training for stardom. The reception by the public of "Sentimental Tommy" brought forth the announcement that henceforth she would shine on the screen as a Realart star. It is said that when Barrie viewed the picture (John Robertson, the director, having taken the picture with him when he went to England to discuss the "Peter Pan" production), he became enthusiastic over the work of Miss McAvoy and he then expressed the hope of seeing her in the role of his favorite fiction character. This, it seems, has settled the Peter Pan role question. All Hollywood is extending congratulations to Miss McAvoy. But she is averse to receiving them, because she "has not been officially advised of her selection."

Marie Prevost is about ready to shoot for the Universal production of "The Butterfly," her first picture under her first starring contract.

Russell Simpson has a prominent role in Gloria Swanson's second starring picture for Paramount, "The Shulamite."

George Melford's next production for Paramount will be "The Sheik," a Monte Katterjohn adaptation of S. M. Hull's novel of the same title.

Walter Hiers, Famous Players-Lasky comedian of the fat variety, is touring the south making personal appearances. His home town is Cordele, Georgia.

Alec Francis, Casson Ferguson and Kathryn Williams will support May McAvoy, latest Realart star, in the filming of "A Virginia Courtship."

King Baggett, former king of photo melodrama, finds directing for Universal a most congenial and artistic soul-satisfying occupation.

Robert McKim, Claire Adams and Betty Brice have the leading roles in the Benjamin B. Hampton production of "Heart's Haven."

Wanda Hawley's recently completed Realart picture will go to the screen as "Her Sturdy Oak." Its working title was "The Clinging Vine."

Glady's Brockwell was born in Brooklyn and in her childhood days was a vaudevillean.

May McAvoy is said to be the possessor the most beautiful eyes in film-dom.

C. E. COMMITTEE BUSY JUST NOW

Executives of the convention entertainment committee of the Christian Endeavor had a meeting at the Baptist church Tuesday evening, following the girls' rally. Mrs. King and Mrs. Frazee cut out the smocks that are to be worn by the workers at the tabernacle. They are to be of orange-colored Japanese crepe worn with white skirts and white duck hats adorned with orange lettering. While Mrs. King and Mrs. Frazee were doing this, a session was held at which considerable business was transacted.

Announcement was made that 172 canvassers will be needed to look up places at which delegates can be entertained. This canvass will begin on the morning of the 18th. Any C. E. willing to help with this task is asked to report at C. E. headquarters at 130 South Brand boulevard.

A C. E. party will be held at the Christian church Saturday night to instruct canvassers in this work and also to enable every member of the entertainment committee to become acquainted with every other member. Besides the business transacted, there will be a program and refreshments will be served.

Mr. Boyd is making arrangements for registration and entertainment headquarters opposite the tabernacle on the lot whereon the gospel tent is now standing.

Mrs. Yarrick is hard at work lining up places where delegates can secure meals. The banquet rooms of the Christian and First Methodist churches will be used, and there will probably be other dining rooms available.

GEORGE JORDAN NEW EDITOR OF "STYLUS"

At a meeting of the present junior class at noon yesterday, George Jordan, who was elected secretary of publications for the first semester next year, was elected editor-in-chief of the 1922 Stylus.

GIVE HIM AIR, BOYS, GIVE HIM AIR

Dear Tad: I suppose it would be as much as your job is worth to publish the following paragraph, but once in a while you pull a fast one which is really refreshing when compared with the stuff turned out by some of your press agent colleagues; and perhaps this will not be altogether wasted. Here goes:

Why Carpenter?

He licked a few dubs like Beckett and Wells, outpointed a few fair middleweights like Willie Lewis, Harry Lewis and Jeff Smith in 20-round fights, and was badly beaten by Klaus and Papke.

His best performances were his victory on a foul over Gunboat Smith, when the Gunner was beginning to make things hot for him, and the alleged foul was admittedly unintentional and didn't hurt a bit, and his being shaded by Joe Jeanette in a 15-round go (at which Joe was compelled to weigh in at 175 pounds). He could have made just as good a showing against Jeffries, Johnson, Dempsey or Harry Wills (if he had made them weigh in low enough).

Then, to crown it all, he deliberately avoids meeting Fred Fulton and Frank Moran. No one can blame him for avoiding Fulton, who is a whale against a man he thinks he can lick, but ye gods, what do you figure will be the effect on the morale of a man about to meet Jack Dempsey, of ducking Frank Moran on the ground of being too dangerous. Barnum was right.

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

JUST IN TIME

"Is the lady of the house in?" asked the man at the front door.

"She is, but she's asleep just now," answered the maid.

A. J. VAN WIE'S CANVASS FOR VOTES

A. J. Van Wie, candidate for the office of city clerk, is making a thorough canvass of his possible constituents, to give them a chance to see the man who is asking for their votes and acquaint them with his qualifications for the office.

When asked about his past, he made no effort to conceal it, frankly confessing that he was born in Mason City, Iowa, though not stating just when, and that he was graduated from its high school. In 1900, he came to California but returned to Iowa after a short stay in this state, and from Mason City went to Chicago, where he was employed as a printer for seven years and where he met and married Mrs. Van Wie. In 1912, accompanied by his wife, he returned to California and in 1913 came to Glendale, where he purchased the Tropico Sentinel, which he published for three years. At the time Tropico and Glendale were consolidated he was city clerk of Tropico. After the union of the two municipalities he entered the employ of the city of Glendale in the police department. Later he was shifted to the public service department of which he was chief clerk for eighteen months during which period he had considerable contact with the city clerk's department and feels well acquainted with the duties of the position he is seeking.

CHILD MUSICAL PRODIGY IN EAST

NEW YORK, June 10—A ten-year old musical prodigy lives in Wood-Ridge, New Jersey. Just across the Hudson. The child is Grace Sharp Castagnetta, a girl of American parentage. Despite her extraordinary talent for music, Grace is a very human little girl with every normal characteristic of hundreds of other American children.

At the age of fifteen months Grace found her way to the piano. At first she just liked the sound of the separate notes that her baby fingers touched as they trailed over the pretty keyboard. Very soon she discovered the beauty that lies in the weaving of chords. And at that tender age, without knowledge of music, for her parents could not play the piano, the child worked out for herself her own idea of music. Her ear delicately attuned to harmony, the baby was able to harmonize in one octave.

At the age of three little Grace was playing in concert. She had but to hear a song once and she could reproduce it on the piano, and often improvise upon it, making the rendition doubly beautiful and twice as intricate. More than that, she could transpose the piece into any key requested, though she knew nothing of keys.

When she was seven years old Grace attracted the attention of Dr. N. J. Elsenheimer, who gave her her first lessons. The lessons have continued now for three years, in which time she has given three recitals of her own. At each recital the little artist rendered works of the masters, such as selections from Liszt, Greig, Paradisi, Debussy, MacDowell and Schumann; sonatas from Beethoven, Scarlatti and Mozart, as well as Bach's English Suites.

Grace attends public school every day and stands as high in her studies as she does in the pursuit of music. She attends Sunday School, in fact she has not missed Sunday School in years.

Those who have heard the youthful artist believe her inordinate powers of improvisation, coupled with her natural inclinations for music, will place her yet among the American master virtuosos.

Britain is now, by far, the greatest meat-eating nation in the world.

AND IT ONLY TRAVELED A FOOT

Pretty soon the scribes will be writing about great knockouts. You will read the stories of punches that ONLY TRAVELED A FOOT.

That's all apple sauce. As the bloke who never saw a camel before piped when he lapped one for the first time: "THERE AIN'T NO SUCH ANIMAL." One writer recently stated that the first punch that dropped Willard at Toledo was a left that traveled only a foot. The writer sitting at the ring-side that day saw Dempsey pull that very same left right from the floor. It not only traveled a foot, but about four feet. A man MUST SWING in order to add heft to the sock. A cannonball dropped a foot wouldn't do as much damage as a cannonball dropped 100 feet. It's the same with a punch.

Fitzsimmons was boosted as having knocked out men with a left that traveled six inches. Fitz was a notorious swinger. His punches usually swept through four feet of air before they landed.

Jeffries is also credited with knockouts that traveled six or seven inches. Jeff was another terrific swinger. His big left swung like the boom on a yacht. He was always swinging.

If you're at the ringside, watch just for the fun of it. It's a million to one that a healthy swing will do the work.

RECONCILED AFTER LONG SEPARATION

(By International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Will a reconciliation after a separation of 20 years halt the divorce suit of John H. Nicoll, millionaire land owner and one of the wealthiest men of the east bay.
Mrs. Lily Nicholl of Salt Lake has arrived in Oakland, according to her attorney, C. A. Strong, in hopes of effecting a reconciliation and with a determination to fight the divorce suit to the bitter end if a reconciliation is not possible. If the reconciliation is not effected, according to Strong, Mrs. Nicholl will file a petition for $2000 a month alimony pending trial of the case which is to be heard by Judge Mogan.
Mrs. Nicholl was in seclusion and neither Strong nor attorneys for Nicholl would discuss the reason for the separation 20 years ago. Nicholl in his divorce complaint filed last May states he and his wife were married in November, 1890, and separated in July, 1901. They have three adult children.
If a hair is pulled out of a person's head by the root, it is replaced by a new one in the course of time.

TRUTH REGARDING STORY OF 'RAMONA'

Here is the truth about "Ramona." The article was written by Ethel R. Shorb from notes dictated by Mrs. J. De Barth Shorb:

"The charm and fascination of the name 'Ramona,' redolent with California's early history, its Spanish grandeas, senoras, fair señoritas and all that went to make it a land of romance, seems to grow yearly. At first the name to many Californians, its visitors and admirers, was associated with the novel 'Ramona.' Gradually as time goes on the name appears unexpectedly as the cognomen of biscuits, pure bottled drinking water, etc., etc. The charm of an old tucked-away adobe is enhanced even in a Californian's eyes—if a bit skeptical—by the sign that it was Ramona's marriage place, or stopping place. If afterwards, by careful or accidental inquiry, a descendant of the family who built and lived in the old adobe for a couple of hundred years or more, laughs that part of the adobe's history away, it served its turn at the time of one visit to add a glamor to every hole and corner of the adobe, probably most of all to its walled-in patio. Instead of a feeling of resentment over the commercial and inventive mind who originated the story a feeling of gratitude lingers for the hour of romance that was given by his ingenuousness. The romance of the name will always be coincident with Mrs. Helen Hunt Jackson's novel 'Ramona' and few to whom that romance spells so much of California's charm have ever known Mrs. Jackson's inspiration for so naming her novel.

"When Mrs. Jackson came to California as special Indian commissioner, with the purpose of writing a novel to arouse feeling for the rapidly vanishing Indian, she brought with her many letters of introduction to the then prominent men and women of California. Among the letters was one to J. De Barth Shorb of San Marino, given by Gardiner Hubbard, father-in-law of Graham Bell of telephone fame. Mrs. Jackson when first coming to California lived for several months at Sierra Madre as an honored guest in Mr. Shorb's home, the name of the tiny daughter of the household, 'Ramona,' held for her a world of romance and she subsequently named her novel, for which she was then gathering data, after the child. Ramona Shorb was named after her maternal grandmother, Ramona Yorba, daughter of Bernardo Yorba, who owned among other possessions in the early Spanish days of California what is now Riverside county. His and his brother Theodosia Yorba's picturesque lives cover many pages of early California history.

"Mrs. Shorb's description of the life at Camulos, the home of Donna Isabella Del Valle in Ventura county, aroused Mrs. Jackson's interest and it was there that the scene of her novel was laid. Mrs. Jackson, through a letter of introduction given by Mrs. Shorb, visited Donna Isabella Del Valle and was her guest for some weeks. Don Ignacio Del Valle's death had occurred some years previous to Mrs. Jackson's visit.

"When 'Ramona' was published the character of Senora Moreno never ceased to arouse Mrs. Shorb's resentment. She always felt that in drawing the character she did, although wholly fictitious, Mrs. Jackson had poorly repaid the hospitality of one of Spanish California's most charming women, a woman of great character and brilliancy and proverbial throughout the country for her kindness to all those who came in contact with her."

EXPRESSING YOUR OPINION

There are some persons so secretive in nature that even when it would be to their advantage to speak the truth they cannot seem to compel themselves to be frank when asked questions which affect themselves vitally.

These persons are not deceitful, but so reserved and afraid of asserting themselves that they cannot speak their mind till goaded to it by circumstances which have become unbearable.

You may be one of those super-sensitive individuals.

If so you have realized a great many times how better off you would be if you could get others to understand your attitude on certain subjects.

Perhaps others have tried in vain to get you to show by some sign just what you want and what you think.

You long with all your heart to have some one understand you.

But you fail to divulge anything which would indicate your preference or your opinion.

You are mighty foolish.

You have a good mind and logical thought, so use your mind to show you the folly of keeping everything to yourself when you might get what you want by a clear mention or explanation of your desires.

PONS-WINNECKE COMET WANDERER

(By International News Service)
DENVER, June 8.—The Pons-Winnecke comet, an itinerant of the sky that is supposed to be present in the heavens about once in every six years, is flitting around the milky way and may be seen with the naked eye during the latter part of June, according to Dean Herbert A. Howe, professor of astronomy at the Denver University.

With the aid of a 28-inch telescope, Dean Howe has already observed a "white light against the sky" that he believes in Pons-Winnecke.

"The comet appears as a very faint, hazy spot on the sky, and stars may be easily seen through it," Dean Howe said. "In the large telescope a condensed nucleus of the eleventh magnitude, almost stellar in appearance, is readily seen, and the nebulousity about it extends chiefly in one direction from the nucleus, as if it were trying to develop a tail. At present it is doubling its brightness every fortnight."

Dean Howe described the position of Pons-Winnecke as near the star Iota Herculis. He said the comet is moving a degree a day eastward and drifting a little northward. It will, however, change its northerly course in a few days and will then go south as well as east, he said.

Astronomers at Denver University are nightly watching the progress of Pons-Winnecke across the heavens.

There is considerable mystery about the comet. The dimensions of its orbit are extremely vague, and astronomers at various observatories throughout the United States have been asked to keep a close watch this year in an effort to secure more definite measurements on the "fly by night."

When Pons-Winnecke reaches its perihelion, late in June, it is expected a great shower of meteors will fall.

While it is possible that the comet may not be visible to the naked eye, Dean Howe says that small telescopes will bring it into view.

VINDICTIVE NATURE

"What's going on here?" "It looks like a bank robbery," said the phlegmatic citizen.

"Aren't you going to interfere?"

"Nope," said the citizen, as he thrust his hands in his pockets and spat into the gutter. "The president of that there institution once refused to lend me $50 on a note indorsed by four of my friends. If this gang cleans him out it'll serve him right."

A raw onion cut in half and rubbed on a rusty grate will keep it a nice black color and give it a brilliant polish when it is blackened.
